

Mining

The mining for such minerals as coal, potash, limestone, and other crushed rocks along with other metals such as gold, copper, and iron requires a steel with abrasive resistance qualities. Whether it is an excavating bucket, a truck bed liner, a conveyor, or a hopper, American Alloy Steel's abrasive resistant grades provide the solution for highly abrasive environments.